SAY GOODBYE
TO BUSH'S GLOBAL GAG RULE

On January 22, 2001, the first business day of his presidency, George W. Bush reimposed the global gag rule. This policy prohibits the United States from granting funds to any overseas health clinic unless it agrees not to use funding from any other source to provide abortion services, abortion-related advocacy, or even abortion counseling or referrals.

The global gag rule blocks the world's poorest women from access to basic birth control. As long as Bush's horrendous policy stays in place, the world's poorest women have diminished access to reproductive health care.

Call your members of Congress today at 202-224-3121.
Ask them to repeal the global gag rule.
